U.S. National Forest Campground Guide - Northern Region (Montana & Northern Idaho) By Moon Canyon Publishing

Do you dream of visiting the magnificent Glacier or Yellowstone National Park, but are concerned about overcrowded park campgrounds? Consider one of the National Forest campgrounds that surround the national parks and from which you can visit a park and then retreat to an uncrowded and peaceful environment. Do you want to explore the ancient lands of the Sioux, Nez Perce and Flathead people or walk in the footprints of Lewis and Clark? If the answer is yes, then visit the national forests in Montana and northern Idaho. Whether you camp in a tent or a recreational vehicle (RV), there are campgrounds in U.S. National Forests to satisfy the needs of most campers. The U.S. National Forest Campground Guide, Northern Region, describes 176 developed campgrounds in 15 National Forests located in Montana and northern Idaho. All of the campgrounds were personally visited and researched by the authors of this Guide. There are more than 50 items of information for each campground, narrative descriptions (including the authors' anecdotes), maps displaying relative location of the campgrounds and quick look-up tables to help you select a campground and plan a travel route. In addition, there are sidebars throughout the Guide containing useful information about camping, the forests, things to do and the authors' experiences.

About the Author

The authors, Fred and Suzanne (Suzi) Dow, are a husband-wife team researching developed campgrounds located in National Forests throughout the United States. Starting in May 1996, the authors set off from Burke, VA in their 23-foot travel trailer and became full-time RVrs for almost three years. The authors now live in Bisbee, AZ for six months and are on the road the other six months a year visiting National Forests and researching campgrounds. As of September 25, 1999, the authors have visited 94 of the 155 national forests and personally surveyed 1,126 campgrounds. They expect to complete their research during the year 2003. Suzi Dow, a former Army brat, spent a good bit of her youth traveling across the United States. Those early years of endless miles in the back of the family station-wagon were not enough. During the summer of 1976, she and her two children spent three months tent camping on a meander from coast to coast. This time produced some of her favorite memories. Just before starting work on this Guide, Suzi earned her Master's degree from George Mason University in Fairfax, VA. Now a resident of Bisbee, AZ, she enjoys her position as an Instructor at Cochise Community College, working on the latest edition of the Guides and getting acquainted with a stationary home, at least for six months of the year. Fred Dow was raised in Newton Center, MA and graduated from Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green, KY in January 1959. Following college, Fred spent over three years in the Army as a Military Police Officer stationed in Garmisch, Germany. After his discharge, Fred was employed by Aetna Life and Casualty as a claims representative in Richmond, VA and Washington, DC. Later, Fred was employed by two R&D firms as the Director of Administration and Personnel in McLean, VA and Rockville, MD. During the summer of 1972, Fred started work for the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in Washington, DC, first as a program analyst, then finally as
