Editorial Review

About the Author

Alex Chow

Alex Chow has been working with Microsoft Dynamics NAV, formerly Navision, since 1999. Over the years, Alex has conducted hundreds of implementations across multiple industries. His customers range from $2 million a year small enterprises to $500 million a year multi-national corporations.

Over the course of his Dynamics NAV career, he has often been designated as the primary person responsible for the success and failure of a Dynamics NAV implementation. The fact that Alex is still in the Dynamics NAV business means that he's been pretty lucky so far. His extensive career in the Dynamics NAV business is evidence of his success rate and expertise.

With a background implementing all functions and modules in and outside of Microsoft Dynamics NAV, Alex has encountered and resolved the most practical to the most complex requirements and business rules. Through these experiences, he has learned that sometimes you have to be a little crazy to have a competitive edge.

Believing that sharing these experience and knowledge would benefit the Dynamics NAV community, Alex writes about his journey at <http://www.dynamicsnavconsultant.com>. He was also the founder of AP Commerce, Inc. (<http://www.apcommerce.com>) in 2005, a full service Dynamics NAV service center.

Alex lives in Southern California with his beautiful wife and two lovely daughters. He considers himself the luckiest man in the world.
